Prior to 155.522 Trillion years ago	Four Vedas Rig Veda: 10589 verses Yajur Veda: >1800 verses Sama Veda: >1800 verses Atharva Veda: 5987 verses	The Vedas are the oldest knowledge known to man which existed before creation (before 155.522 trillion years ago) and the oldest written documents on the planet. The Vedas constitute Dharma (religious principles) and reveal the Supreme person as Lord Krishna who has a spiritual form, and the living entities are pure spirit souls, entangled in the material world due to identifying the self as matter (bodily designations) rather than the eternal soul. The Bhagavad-Gita which was spoken 5000 years ago by the Supreme person (Lord Krishna) is the essence of all the Vedas.
